ABOUT US

Woongal Environmental Services is a Supply Nation Registered business, that incorporates strong cultural values and is committed to Partnerships with Native Title Groups, Aboriginal Parties and other Indigenous Businesses. We recognize the importance of economic opportunity for Traditional Owners and are committed to partnership in the creation of jobs On Country.

Our team is committed to developing solutions with Business and our Indigenous Partners to provide shared value.

We work with Partners that have exceptional business culture and a commitment to Indigenous culture and economic opportunity. Our Indigenous Partners have strong cultural values with a mission to realize business solutions for their people.

Our aspirations are to improve business development and create employment opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people On Country.

ENVIRONMENTAL SOLUTIONS

Woongal Environmental Services provides robust business solutions that respect Indigenous culture and partners with Indigenous groups. We work with other Indigenous and non-Indigenous businesses to provide solutions to our clients. These solutions are about partnering with Traditional Owners to develop business solutions On Country. Woongal Environmental Services looks to integrate Traditional Owners' knowledge, and Indigenous rangers with ecology and environmental science to provide business solutions and good science.

Woongal Environmental Services works across Queensland and delivers environmental management and monitoring for the public and private sectors. Our work has seen traditional practices return to country for the management of habitat quality, offset management, weed and pest control and adherence to state and federal conditions and approvals.

MINING & RESOURCES

Caring for country is an important obligation for First Nations people across Australia, and participation in environmental monitoring and management is a way of honouring that obligation.

Woongal Environmental Services, a W&J certified company, have been engaged to manage the 33,000 hectare Moray Downs West Offset Area.

Woongal provides these services by teaming expert environmental scientists with First Nations people in a way that recognises the value of First Nations people's knowledge and the science-based skills and knowledge of expert environmental scientists.
